Tri-Med Solutions Brings Blend of Software Superiority, Service and Understanding of Office Management to Physician Marketplace

(Marietta, GA.) – Physician practices seeking technology to improve the management of information for smoother office functioning and data analysis to measure quality of care have faced a dilemma. Where to find reliable products delivered by reliable companies and technical experts who really “get it” when it comes to running a medical office and caring for patients?

Tri-Med Solutions is their new answer. Launched by experts who have actually designed, developed, implemented and maintained medical software systems over their long careers, Tri-Med Solutions is a medical software solutions provider specializing in electronic medical records (EMR) and practice management (PM) systems for small and medium-sized medical clinics and private practices. And because Tri-Med is a certified Value Added Reseller of McKesson’s Practice Partner® software systems, customers can have faith that Tri-Med is backed by the leader in healthcare products and services.

“More and more physicians are finding that if they can implement technology that adds accuracy and efficiency to their office administration, then they can devote more resources and attention to why they went into medicine in the first place – helping patients,” said Bart Segal, founder and chief executive officer of Tri-Med.

Segal, who developed software for physician offices that eventually became one of the industry’s leading products, sees the McKesson partnership as bringing a smart balance to his customers.

“We decided to partner with McKesson in order to deliver the best products available that automate the doctor’s office with a seamlessly integrated solution for both the front office and back office. Our clients get award-winning products, the security of a multi-billion dollar healthcare industry provider with the customer service of a local, customer-focused solution provider,” he said.

McKesson’s Practice Partner® product line is a complete set of clinical and administrative tools. It includes Patient Records, a leading electronic medical records system; Appointment Scheduler, a sophisticated multi-clinic scheduler; and Medical Billing, a comprehensive practice management system. These systems are used nationwide by over 1,500 practices of all sizes and specialties.
